DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's amendment and arguments of March 24, 2008 have been entered and fully considered.
2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. Claims 3, 4 and 8-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sickles '482 in view of Walberg and Binoche.

Sickles '482 discloses an electrostatic coating spray gun comprising: a barrel 14 as recited; an air cap 70 mounted on a front of the barrel; a coating material delivery port 84 as recited; a centralized electrode 150 protruding forward through the delivery port 84; a first pair of projections 100 and 102 as recited, the projections protruding farther forward than the coating material delivery port; a pattern flow channel as recited; a pair of electrodes 110 and 112 in the air cap 70. Walberg teaches a coating spray gun comprising an air cap 34 having a pair of projections in which an electrode is located in one of the projections (Figure 3) and Binoche teaches an electrostatic coating spray gun comprising insulated electrodes. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the device of Sickles '482 placing electrodes in the projections since such arrangements have been taught by Walberg and by providing insulated electrodes as has already been taught by Binoche. Placing electrodes in each projection would have been a matter of design choice since it would have a mere duplication of parts as would have been the addition of a second pair of projections as recited in claim 17. It would also have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art that the pin electrode would be grounded since such arrangements are well known in the art and grounding the pin electrode by a wiring cable would have been a matter of design choice. The orientation of the projections as recited in claim 12 would have been a matter of design choice since the same results still will be achieved with such arrangements.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
